THE BATTLE FOUGHT.

Death of General Geo. B. McClellan.

ANOTHER GREAT MAN GONE.

General Arrangement—Tributes of Condolence from President Cleveland and Leon Abbott.

Death of General McClellan.

NEWARK, N. J., October 29.—General George B. McClellan died at his residence on Orange Mountain suddenly of heart disease about midnight.

NEWARK, N. J., October 29.—General McClellan died shortly after midnight of heart disease at his residence on Orange Mountain. He had been under the physician's care for about two weeks. Nothing serious was expected until he was taken worse yesterday. He died surrounded by his family. He arrived home about six weeks ago, on the trip west with his family, and an invitation had been issued for a reception this evening. He died at St. Cloud, Orange Mountain, where he had lived for nearly twenty years.

IN REFERENCE TO McCLELLAN.

WASHINGTON, October 29.—The President has ordered that flags upon all the buildings of the Executive Department be placed at half-mast until after funeral of General McClellan.

THE PRESIDENT'S CONDOLENCE.

The President has sent the following telegram of condolence to Mrs. McClellan to-day:

"WASHINGTON, October 29.
To Mrs. Geo. B. McClellan, Orange, N. J.:
I am shocked by the news of your husband's death, and while I know how little are all human efforts to console, I must assure you of my deep sympathy in your great grief and express to you my own sense of the affliction at the loss of so good a friend.
(Signed) GROVER CLEVELAND."

NEW YORK, October 29.—At General McClellan's office, in this city, only the news of his demise has been received. He has been failing for some months past, and had not visited the office in two weeks, though it was not expected his illness would result fatally. He leaves a son and daughter, the former just completing his education. As soon as the news spread throughout the city, great sorrow was expressed at the general's death; flags on public buildings are placed at half-mast. The Grand Army post has called a meeting to express their sorrow, and offer a body guard for the remains.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.
WASHINGTON, October 29.—The Cabinet meeting to-day was shorter than usual, and the preparation of annual reports of Cabinet officers was the only general question considered. The death of General McClellan was felt alluded to by the President and members of the Cabinet.

The following executive order was issued to-day:

EXECUTIVE MARRION.

WASHINGTON, October 29.

The death of General McClellan, at once time major general, commanding the armies of the United States, took place at an early hour this morning. As a mark of public respect to the memory of this distinguished soldier and citizen, whose military ability and civic virtues have shed a lustre upon the history of his country, it is ordered by the President that the national flag be displayed at half-mast upon all of the executive departments in this city, until after his funeral shall have taken place.
(Signed) DANIEL S. LAMONT.

The following general order was issued this afternoon:

WAR DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON, October 29.

With profound regret the Secretary of War announces to the army the death of General George B. McClellan, formerly major general, commanding the army of the United States, which occurred at Orange, N. J., this morning. The name and fame of this distinguished soldier and citizen is known and honored throughout the Republic, as the organizer of the Army of the Potomac. He made it capable of accomplishing great deeds. The lessons he gave it were never forgotten and the spirit with which he animated it continued through all its eventful history. Subsequently, as its leader, he rendered great services to his country. His pure and noble character, his unselfish devotion and the duty he performed in the hour of peril will cause his memory ever to be cherished with pride by the people of the United States.
(Signed) WM. C. ENDICOTT.

Secretary of War.

It is definitely learned to-day that General McClellan came very near being made a member of President Cleveland's Cabinet, that he was tendered the Russian mission and declined it because of business engagements, and that within the past twenty-four hours the President had concluded to offer him an appointment as a member of the Civil Service Commission.

NEWARK, N. J., October 29.—Governor Abbott has sent the following telegram to Mrs. McClellan:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, TRENTON, October 29th.

Dear Madame—I have just learned with profound sorrow, of the death of your distinguished husband. I speak not only for myself, but for all the people of New Jersey, who will join in the universal mourning for the loss of so pure and upright a citizen and great soldier. I wish most earnestly to take such proper official action as will do honor to his memory. I have directed Adjutant-General William G. Stryker to ascertain your wishes, so the action of the executive may be in full sympathy with your own feelings.
I have the honor to be, very respectfully yours,
LEON ABBOTT.

A later report says:

General Geo. B. McClellan, ex-Commander of the Army of the United States, died suddenly this morning at 3.30 from exhaustion, produced by repeated shocks of neuralgia of the heart, at his home on Orange Mountain. Though he had nearly completed his 59th year, he had preserved not only buoyant spirits, but a buoyant youthful agility. Therefore, when he began, about three weeks ago, to feel pains of the heart, neither he nor his medical man, Dr. Seward, of Orange, nor any of his family, regarded the matter as serious. He and everyone else believed yesterday that the troublesome malady was either gone for good or at least for a long time. In that belief, the General ordered his carriage yesterday morning and drove to Orange, accompanied by his only daughter, saw several gentlemen on business and made an appointment with one of them for 11 o'clock to-day. He returned home in excellent spirits, ate heartily at his meal hours, and retired to rest. About 11 o'clock the pains returned, and a messenger on horseback was dispatched down the hill for a doctor, who came back with the least possible delay; when he entered the bedroom of the General, he found the patient in extreme agony. The paroxysms returned with a rhythmic frequency that was alarming, and the homeopathic remedies which the skill of the doctor suggested, were no more efficient than those which had been supplied by the intelligent affection of Mrs. McClellan's wife and daughter, who had ministered to him unceasingly from the first alarm. For four hours he suffered the most excruciating agony. About 3 o'clock there was a change, the eyes of the patient began to grow brighter, and his face had been white with pain, began to recover its usual ruddy hue. He gave a long, deep sigh of relief, smiled faintly and said: "I feel easy now; thank God, I have pulled through!" Then he sank back upon the pillow as if exhausted, closing his eyes. The doctor, who was watching his face with extreme solicitude, saw the unerring signs of the approaching collapse, and whispered to Mrs. McClellan: "I fear he is dying." It was but too true. General McClellan raised himself up on one hand, half opened his eyes, and fell back dead. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

NEW YORK, October 29.—Though no definite arrangements in regard to the funeral of General McClellan have been made it is probable the services will be held in the Madison Square Presbyterian Church on Monday, and the interment will be at Trenton. The family has been deluged with messages of condolence from all parts of the country and from Europe. Fitz John Porter says, though General McClellan's personal recollections were burned, he has succeeded in reproducing most of them and that they will be published soon and that they will create a stir equal to that caused by publication of Depew's letter on the Grant-Johnson matter.

Mexican Matters.

MEXICO, via Galveston, October 29.—Heavy rains have begun again in the interior of the Republic, causing much damage to the railway lines. The Central Railroad is badly washed out near Aguas Calientes. The extent of the damage is not yet known.

There has been no mail communication with the United States for three days.

The National Bank has resumed business.

An agent of the Franco-Egyptian Bank of Paris, who came here to aid the National Bank in arranging the subsidy matter, says there was no possibility of arranging matters for the railway, when the railway companies unexpectedly demanded an alteration of their respective concessions. They demanded certain privileges in the direction of relating unbuild lines, greater freedom in making freight rates, etc. The cabinet thought the railways were crowding the government, and all arrangements fell through. The government now takes the ground that, inasmuch as the concessions were originally granted by Congress, all petitions for alterations of concessions must go to Congress. The suspension of the subsidies was an executive act pure and simple, and the President has power to authorize their resumption, but as the matter stands Congress must decide. Opposition members in Congress insist that the government must submit both the law decrees to that body for its approval.

General Grant's Remains.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—During several weeks past there has been much speculation in the minds of the New Yorkers as to whether General Grant's body would remain here or be removed from the State. These doubts grew out of the recently published statement attributed to Hon. J. B. Chaffee, to the effect that the family of General Grant did not wish the General's body to remain in this city, and that Congress, at its next session, would take action in the matter. In order to make sure about the matter, the Grant Monument Association decided to take action, and on the 18th instant Mayor Grace, its Vice-President, wrote a letter to Mrs. Grant, stating the rumors at some length, saying they were likely to interfere seriously with the raising of the funds for a monument and asking her to make a definite and positive statement on the subject, to be given to the public. Her reply is appended:

NEW YORK, October 29.—Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 18th came during my absence and was seen on my return from Long Branch. Riverside was selected by my son, and family, as the burial place of my husband, General Grant. First, because I believed New York was his preference; second, it is nearer the residence I hope to occupy as long as I live, and where I will be able to visit his resting place often; third, I have believed and am now convinced that the tomb will be visited by as many of his countrymen here as it would in any other place; and, fourth, the offer of a park in New York was the first which observed and unreservedly too, the only condition imposed by General Grant himself, namely, that I should have a place by his side.
I am, Sir, Very respectfully,
JULIA D. GRANT.

To Wm. K. Grace, Mayor, City of New York.

Diaz and Bismarck.

NEW YORK, October 29.—A Washington special to the Post says: President Diaz, of Mexico, acting upon the assumption that the reciprocity treaty with the United States will not be ratified, is negotiating with Germany for a loan to help Mexico out of her financial difficulties. His hope was that the treaty would lead to such large American investments in Mexico that it would not be difficult for him to place a loan in the United States. He first tried negotiations with England and, it is said, was preparing to make large commercial and other concessions, but England declined to assume any new responsibilities. Now, the story goes, Diaz has applied to the German government, as the last resort, with a proposition similar to that made earlier in the year to the government of Great Britain, and negotiations upon the subject are now said to be pending. The Germans here, who ought to be well informed on the subject, express the opinion that Bismarck will grant Mexico's request, if she will grant to Germany certain colonization privileges, and the Mexican government is disposed to accede to this demand. If Mexico shall make concessions to Bismarck, the United States will be greatly interested to know the nature of these concessions, and whether or not the treaty which may be entered into would be in violation of the Monroe doctrine. Unless the diplomats are very much mistaken, the United States will soon have an opportunity to decide that question.

The Rival for the U. P.

NEW YORK, October 27.—The statement is made officially that the Atlantic & Pacific Company will have its connection with the Southern Pacific, completed within the next two weeks. This will make the shortest line to San Francisco for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe route and will add very largely, it is believed, to the earnings of the Atlantic & Pacific company, which, up to the present time, has had no western outlet, and therefore has been dependent entirely upon its local business. It will, it is said, be an active competitor for a considerable portion of the business for the Union Pacific Company.

Schurz's Offer.

Boston, October 29.—The Transcript says Carl Schurz has made an offer of $10,000 cash and to assume an indebtedness of $45,000 for the Boston Post, with a view to making an independent paper of it.

Famous for Families.

Most appropriately is Brown's Iron Bitters called a family medicine in view of such cases as that of Mrs. Cook, of 57 Felicity Avenue, Newark, N. J. That lady writes: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters since last summer with great benefit, especially for indigestion, and always buy half a dozen bottles at once. There are three to use it; we all feel stronger than for years before, and can recommend it to all who suffer from dyspepsia, loss of strength or indigestion, rightfully termed the king of evils."

Logan and Carr.

BINGHAMTON, October 29.—General John A. Logan and General Carr, spoke at a large Republican meeting here to-night. They go to Oswego, to-morrow.

Washington Whispers.

WASHINGTON, October 29.—The President to-day appointed Frederick P. Winston, of Illinois, to be minister resident and Consul-General to Persia.

EXPORTATION OF SPIRITS.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has prepared a new series of regulations in regard to the exportation of spirits in bond, by which it is provided that spirits distilled in the United States, which were exported in good faith and which can be identified, will, when reimported, be subject to a duty of ninety cents per proof or wine gallon on the quantity actually contained in each package. When they cannot be identified the duty will be same as on foreign spirits. But if it should be found that the exportation in any case had not been made in good faith, the tax of ninety cents per proof or wine gallon will be assessed on the total quantity withdrawn under the export bond from the distillery warehouses. All cases of doubt as to good faith, will be referred to the Secretary of the Treasury.

POSTMASTERS.

WASHINGTON, October 29.—The Acting Postmaster-General to-day appointed the following fourth-class postmasters:

Montana—Poplar Creek agency, L. V. Bogy.

California—Milpitas, Antonio F. Caneha; Oakville, James McQuaid.

Oregon—Rye Valley, Mrs. Alton H. Clark.

Turf Talk.

JEROME PARK, October 29.—The races were run in a steady down pour of rain, and gloomy and depressing as the outlook was, it was rendered still more so by an accident in the first race. Maggie J. fell and one after another, Brookwood, Sam Brown and Stone Buck followed, and with their jockeys made a decidedly miscellaneous heap. Brookwood was killed, and Jockey Potter, probably fatally hurt.

Three-quarters mile—Florence E. won, Richmond second, Choclat third. Time, 1.18 1/2.

Three-quarters mile, two year old—Bordelaise won, Anarchus second, Bismarck third. Time, 1.18 1/2.

Five and eighth—Wallflower won, Greenfield second, Farewell third. Time, 2.01.

Three-year-olds and upwards: Error won, Tony Foster second; Mary Hamilton third. Time, 1.45.

Five and three furlongs, over six hurdles—Sandalwood won, Bally second; Quebec third. Time, 2.42.

New York Democrats.

NEW YORK, October 29.—At a large Democratic mass meeting in Brooklyn, to-night, Ex-Governor Daniel Voorhees, of Indiana, was the principal speaker. In his opening sentences, he alluded to the death of General McClellan in a feeling manner. "The heart of this nation will," he said, "beat heavily to his tomb, when he shall be buried, and to-night the cheeks of many a veteran are wet with tears." Voorhees was followed by Geo. L. Converse, of Ohio. Then Governor Hill, Democratic Candidate for Governor, appeared on the stage and was most enthusiastically received. He expressed thanks for hearty reception and spoke at some length on issues of pending State campaign.

Several Million Involved.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 29.—Testimony in the suit of Main and Winchester, prominent merchants of this city, vs. the Central Pacific Company was concluded to-day. Plaintiffs' counsel, Mr. Chittenden, of New York, submitted the case without argument. Plaintiffs were shareholders in the California Pacific Railroad Company, they brought suit to show that the Central Pacific had never acquired the ownership of the road, but was merely trusting the California Pacific shareholders. The case has been on trial over three months and involves several million dollars, besides the value of the property at the time of the alleged transfer, fifteen years ago.

The Boomers.

WICHITA, Kansas, October 29.—The Daily Eagle is in possession of information to the effect that the Boomers have again made a movement at Oklahoma. For several days past numbers have been going with teams and provisions. Such as had reached the Oklahoma district up to the date of the latest advices, found a number of cattle-men, with their herds, in peaceful possession, but all seemed harmonious as between the herders and boomers, with no prospect of trouble. From fifty to sixty wagon loads of boomers were daily arriving.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or my leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at twenty-five cents per box by Z. C. M. I.

How McClellan Was Loved.

CHICAGO, October 29.—Major Joseph Kirkland, of this city, who was a member of McClellan's staff, at the time the latter was commander-in-chief of the army, said in an interview to-day, he believed, if no change had been made from Washington in General McClellan's plans, he would have taken Richmond in the first peninsular campaign. "McClellan protested," he said, "against being recalled to Washington, and begged to be empowered to continue the attack on Richmond." Major Kirkland spoke in the warmest terms of McClellan's military genius, and referred repeatedly to the love his men bore him, on account of his humanity and solicitude as to their welfare.

No More Extravagance in Millinery.

The time when a husband turned pale at the sight of his wife's millinery bill is a thing of the past. It no longer takes almost their weight in gold to secure a fashionable hat or bonnet for a lady or child.

To Simon Bros. is due the credit of having brought about this desirable change, and that their efforts and principle of doing business have been and are well seconded by the ladies, is easily proven by paying a visit to their establishment.

Their store is crowded from early morning until late at night, the force of clerks being hardly sufficient to wait upon all their friends and customers.

Honorable treatment, low prices, attractive goods and courteous and obliging clerks will always prove a loadstone bound to attract the attentions of the ladies.
